

Document A: Completing your Internship Agreement Form/Convention de Stage Form

If your employer is happy for you to use the standard QMUL Internship Agreement, please read the instructions below for how to complete your documentation.

- 1) Fill out the Internship Agreement form with your personal details, the name of the company, the internship dates and your signature.

- 2) Bring your Internship Agreement form, an email from your employer confirming your internship and the cover sheet into Careers & Enterprise. A member of our team will sign the cover sheet.

- 3) Take the cover sheet and your Internship Agreement form to the Student Enquiry Centre, Queens' Building. They will sign and stamp your form on behalf of the University, take a copy of the form and return the original to you.

If you are overseas and therefore unable to bring the documentation to us in person then we are able to process and sign your documentation via email. Please email your completed form along with correspondence from your employer (see step 2) to careers@qmul.ac.uk.

Once your employer has signed your form please email us a copy of the agreement with the all signatories. Email to studentenquiry@qmul.ac.uk

Please note:

QMUL doesn't cover your insurance, so you need to take out fully comprehensive insurance for the whole period spent abroad on your placement, covering medical and associated expenses, personal accident, and possessions.

If you are not a registered student for the full period of your internship then we will need to edit the documentation to reflect this.

If you have any further queries please contact our Front Desk on careers@qmul.ac.uk or call 020 7882 8533.

Throughout the internship period the intern remains a fully enrolled student of QMUL. S/he must comply with all the teaching and examinations regulations of QMUL. This agreement does not cover individuals who have already graduated from QMUL.

During the internship, the intern is obliged to respect all of the company's local regulations particularly in regard to discipline, health and safety and the working schedule.

The company must comply with its internal rules of risk management, non-discrimination and performance evaluation with respect to the intern.

In the event of any breach of discipline, the company reserves the right to terminate the internship after informing the contact named on this document for QMUL.

The intern may break the internship agreement, after having communicated the decision to the named company representative and the named contact for QMUL.

Any costs ensuing as a part of the intern's activities for the company shall be payable by the company, including any possible training costs required by the internship. The costs of board, lodging and food shall be payable by the intern.

If the internship extends over two months, the intern shall receive a gratuity.

The intern shall obtain the health and liability insurance prior to the placement. The intern should be insured against the risk of sickness and maternity, disability and accidents at work. QMUL shall not be liable for any accident involving the intern or costs arising from this, or provide any form of insurance for the intern.

Both the company and the intern shall obtain liability insurance with an insurance provider of their choice. QMUL shall not be liable for any actions, errors or omissions of the intern.
